

Farmers go organic - Fiji Times Online

LITIA CAVA

Monday, August 15, 2016

Update: 12:42PM ORGANIC farmers in the Saivou District of Ra could be exporting high value disaster resilient crops in the near future.

A two-year project aimed at reviving organic agriculture in the Saivou District of Ra will be launched this Wednesday at Nabalabala Village.

Farmers from eight villages in the Saivou District will also be engaged in an organic farming program implemented by the Foundation of Rural Integrated Enterprises and Development (FRIEND) Fiji to promote Agriculture as a viable career option.